Coffee County Farms Prove Growing Blue Lupine Profitable

Does Blue Lupine pay? Here are some figures obtained from three different farms in Coffee County:
Mr. Ed Donaldson planted 33 acres of lupine following peanuts the first of October. 2500 pounds of seed were dined in lightly before the peanuts were picked. This was 75.7 lbs. of seed per acre. A good stand was obtained. At the present time the lupine on those 33 acres has produced nitrogen equivalent to 884 lbs. of nitrate of Soda per acre.
Mr. John Mound planted two and one-half tons of blue lupine on 110 acres. The lupine has produced in the soil the equivalent of 664 lbs. of nitrate of soda per acre.

Mr. A. B. Mothes produced the equivalent of 884 lbs. of nitrate of soda with blue lupine.
The results of Lupine planted in the county this year should encourage more farmers to plant lupine next fall. Other than the nitrogen produced in the soil the lupine seems to be an excellent cover crop to prevent erosion. It also adds humus matter to the soil which is essential in holding water and mineral elements.

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

Flying Social Call

Jake Bonneau made a flying trip from Montgomery to Nashville where he made a social call during the week-end. Nashville is a long way from Elba to make a week-end social call, but the attraction was great, according to Mr. Bonneau. Jake is a very busy man and cannot spare too much time from his hardware and funeral business and his duties as chairman of the Red Cross drive, so in order to save time he made the trip via plane.

Elba Tigers Beaten By Florala 51 To 33; Win From Laverne

The Elba Tigers had the unusual experience of being defeated by the Florala team. They lost to Florala by the overwhelming score of 51 to 33. The Tigers defeated the Florala team earlier in the season and have defeated several teams that have gained victories over Florala. It was a big upset for the Tigers who have been winning with regularity.

Children Will Tell

While Mrs. Price Ringo and Mrs. Mary Newton were helping take a religious census of the town Sunday afternoon, they saw a woman enter her home but when they knocked at the door they got no response. They asked a little girl playing in the yard if her mother were home. She replied: "My mama said to tell you she wasn't at home but she is." After the canvassers left the little girl cried out, "Mama, I told them what you said."

Ten Cents A Year

Kimmy Dorsey, who was in charge of the auction sale of the Baptist Barraca building, held Monday, February 21, reports that 25 or 30 persons submitted bids. C. E. Dorsey, Jr., being the successful bidder, acquiring the building for $700. Kimmy said the building cost $700 to build ten years ago, so the Barraca class of the Elba Baptist Sunday School has had the use of it at cost of one dollar, or ten cents per year.

Little Competition

Berestford Horn of Dothan, former Elba resident was shaking hands and 'chewing the rag' with old friends in Elba Wednesday. When asked what he was doing now he replied that he was in a business with little competition now - "trying to make an honest dollar." Same old fat.

Mrs. B. E. Richards

Mrs. B. E. Richards, aged 69 years, died in the Laverne hospital Thursday afternoon, February 17th. She was a resident of the Burnt Out community where she was beloved and highly esteemed.

Surviving are her husband, Elder J. J. Richards; three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Wilson, Chandler Rt. 1, Mrs. Lennie Kate McCarty, Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. Geraldine Carney, Opp Rt. 1; two sons, L. W. Richards, Brantley, and R. L. Richards, Phenix City; a brother, J. W. Chandler, Opp Rt. 3; 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held on Saturday morning at 11:00 at Vessley cemetery conducted by Elder J. W. McLeod. Interment was in Vessley cemetery with Hayes Funeral Home directing.

Donald Lawson

Little Donald Lawson passed away at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lawson, of the Damascus community on February 16, 1949. He had been paralyzed since birth four years ago. The immediate cause of his death was not known.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lawson, two brothers, Junior and Gaston; one sister, Lennie-Jean; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lawson, and several uncles and aunts.

Funeral services were held at the Evergreen cemetery on February 17, conducted by Rev. J. I. It is generally believed that sweet potatoes produced from

Raises Potatoes With Electric Hotbed

"Hubby" Bryson, son of H. M. Bryson, Enterprise, and a member of the Enterprise chapter of Future Farmers of America, used sweet potatoes as a project last year and has proved that they can be grown successfully in Coffee County, not only as a food crop, but commercially as well.

Electric Hotbed

Hubby and his dad discussed the various types of hotbeds with Mr. Reeder and Mr. Speed and it was decided that an electric hotbed would be the most economical. After considering the location of the proposed hotbed, labor, materials for construction and the cost of heat for operation, the electric hotbed was chosen.

Paul Donaldson, rural service engineer with the Alabama Power Company at Enterprise and J. J. McGilvray, Enterprise, assisted Agent Speed in making preliminary plans for the hotbed and in ordering necessary equipment for installation.

Unfavorable weather conditions in February delayed the installation and bedding of the sweet potatoes until March 12, at which time Hubby, with the help of his father, Mr. Speed and

SOCIALS

VAUGHAN-CALDWELL IS ANNOUNCED

The marriage of Miss Betty Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, of Samson, to Mr. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Sr., of Elba, was solemnized on Wednesday evening, February 16 at 6:00 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. W. T. Grider performed the double ring ceremony. Frank Young, of Elba, served as best man and the bride only attendant was Margaret Burkett of Geneva, who wore a black moire taffeta dress with a corsage of white carnations.

The bride wore an attractive suit of navy blue gabardine with accessories to match. Her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. After a brief wedding trip to Florida the young couple returned to Elba to make their home.

Mrs. Wayland Crocker has returned from Hanes City, Florida where she spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kimmy Godwin.

Mr. Harris Murphree made a business trip to Jackson, Miss. the first of the week.

Susan Murphree visited her cousin, Beverly Whitman in Troy last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Williams and daughters, Calma and Carroll, of Montgomery, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Mathis.

Captain and Mrs. Douglas Easters announce the birth of a son, Martin Capps, on February 9th, at Moody's Hospital in Dothan.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koomen announce the birth of a nine-pound son in Washington, D. C., February 16th. Mrs. Koomen is the former Miss Nellie Faye Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Tice and little daughter, Linda, of Geneva, visited Mrs. Tice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Rowell, during the past week-end. Little Linda is recovering nicely from a serious illness.

Young Preachers Of Elba Deliver First Sermons Sunday

Elba churchgoers had the unusual experience Sunday night of listening to two Elba boys delivering their initial sermons before Elba congregations. Harold Devane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Devane, occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church and Robert Mallory at the Baptist church. Large congregations attended both services and were greatly impressed with the young preachers' efforts.

Both young men are high school students and although they are inexperienced, they are enthusiastically determined to make a success of the ministry. Both young men made a creditable start Sunday night and received many complimentary words of encouragement.

Another young Elbian, Ray Foreman has chosen the ministry as his life work and is a student at Howard College, Birmingham.

Gene Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fuller, has been preaching for several months. He is pastor of the Methodist church at Banks and fills other appointments. He is making fine progress. It is quite unusual for a city size of Elba to have such a large number of young preachers.

Three Elba Girls Make Deans' Lists

Three girls from Elba have been included on the Dean's list of honor students for the first semester in their respective schools. Nina English and Annie Sue Elmore are at Alabama College, Montevallo, and Martha Wright at the University of Alabama.

Nina is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James English and is a senior at Alabama College majoring in speech.

Daughter of Mrs. Annie Mae Elmore, Annie Sue is a junior at Alabama College and is majoring in home economics.

Martha is a senior in the school of commerce at the University. Her high scholastic average in her work has put her on the Dean's list in the School of Commerce and Business Administration.

Rev. M. T. Moore, of Dozier, a former pastor, attended the quarterly conference at the Methodist Church Sunday.

Vernon's Scenic Wonders

EVERY summer the farmers in a certain section of Vermont would have as many "paying guests" as they could handle. It was a good business for the farmers, but it greatly puzzled one of them.

One day, after the work was done, when he was sitting on the porch with a visitor, the puzzled farmer asked, "Why do you people come up here every year? Nothing here that I can see."

"Why, the scenery, man. It's glorious!"

The farmer looked around. "Huh," he said, "That's not so hot. Take away the mountains and the lake and what have you got?"

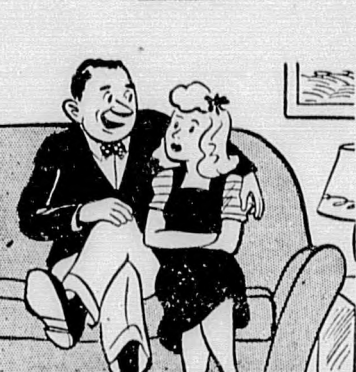

No Assistance

Tearing down the street as fast as he could go was a little man, and behind him followed a crowd of people. At the local tavern in hot pursuit.

At the corner a policeman stood regarding the scene with a smile. "Why don't you help me catch him?" he yelled at the bartender.

"He told me he was racing for the price of a drink," he said. "So I am," shouted the bartender. "He didn't pay for it!"

SMALL TALK

Toni: I never loved anyone but you.

Jane: Nonsense!

Toni: You are the light of my life.

Jane: I've heard that before.

Toni: I can't live without your love.

Jane: Foolish talk.

Toni: If I could only tell you how much I love you.

Jane: Think of something new.

Toni: Will you marry me?

Jane: Well, now you're talking.

HOME MADE REMEDY

Two strangers had been paired in the golf club tournament. One was Colonel Thunder, red of face, wild of stroke, free of tongue. The other was a meek man introduced as Dr. Pylwell. At the first bunker Colonel Thunder took a long, silent look at his ball, then turned and exclaimed—

"Pardon me, doctor, but before I tackle this lie, would you mind telling me if you're a D. D. or an M. D.?"

Night found them far from town, so they decided to sleep beside a haystack.

"What are you going to use for a pillow?" asked the first.

"This old piece of drain pipe," the other one said.

"Drain pipe?" the friend exclaimed. "That'll be too hard, won't it?"

"Dumpty," said number two. "I'm going to stuff it with hay."

Tennis Skill

Little Betty had played her first game of tennis and when her mother asked her how she did, Betty replied proudly: "I hit three girls with the ball and one with the racket."

Going Up!

Mrs. Henpeck—Everything is going up.

Mr. Henpeck—Oh, I don't know. For instance, there's your opinion of me, my opinion of you, and the neighbor's opinion of us both.

LATE AGAIN

Boss: You are 20 minutes late again. Don't you know what time we start work around here?

Employee: No, sir. I've always been working when I get here.

The annual honorary singing for F. M. Roney will be held in Dothan March 6th. The singing will begin at nine in the morning and last until three in the afternoon.

Plans have been made to make it one of the best singings ever had in Dothan. Friends of Mr. Roney and singers are invited and expected. Mr. Roney is a great singing man and his friends hope to make this one of the best days of his life. The full program of the day will be under his direction.

Lamar Rainer Stars In Production At Auburn

AUBURN—The Auburn Players presentation of "The Jest," playing this week at the Y hut at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, will be presented again March 1 through March 3.

Featured in the leading roles are Lamar Rainer, from Elba, as Glanetto, Malespini; Marjorie Shores, Sylacauga, as Ginevra; and Robert Blackburn from Jacksonville, Fla., as Nerl Chilaramenti.

Other players cast in "The Jest," Sam Benelli's 4-Act drama set in Florence during the route of Lorenzo, the Magnificent, are: Jack Sany, Louisville, Ky.; James Massey, Paint Rock, Basil Cimino, Auburn, Ethel Tatum, Birmingham, Arnold W. Liles, Lloyd Smythe, Earl Blakey, Fairfax; Richard Mackay, Milwaukee, Wis.; Tom Malone, Camden; Robert Nixon, Auburn; Carroll Darrough, Blountville; Rowena Kidd, Birmingham; Kitty Barlee, Mobile; Hollace E. Arment, Auburn; Bill Mason, Auburn; George Spelvin and Walter Plunge.

Settings were designed and their execution largely supervised by James Massey, Junior in Architecture.

Direction of "The Jest" is in the capable hands of Mr. Telfair B. Peet, Associate Professor in Dramatic Arts.

Players on the production staff are: Jean Ramsey, James Masey, Robert Nixon, Bill Mason, Rowena Kidd, Earl Blakey, Harriet Herring and Robert Laney.

TRACTOR CLINICS

With the increasing rate of tractor power replacing horse power on the farms, many organizations have deemed it wise to hold tractor maintenance clinics to instruct tractor operators in following the "tractor manual" in maintaining and servicing the tractor for a longer life and better performance.

Four tractor maintenance clinics are being held in Coffee County by the Coffee County Extension personnel in cooperation with the Pan-American Petroleum Company and the tractor dealers in the county.

A clinic will be held for the 4-H Club boys in Enterprise on February 24 and in Elba February 25th. Clinics for adults will be held in Enterprise Feb. 28th and in Elba March 1st. The clinics in Enterprise will be held at the Enterprise Extension Center.

The Coffee County schools are planning two music festivals for the month of April to be held in the gymnasium at Elba. In preparation for these events several music teachers are teaching these songs over WIRB while the children of the county listen in.

Last week we had the following broadcasts at 2:00 P. M.

Tuesday: Miss Mary Ruth Lewis of Coffee County High School teaching songs to the senior high students.

Wednesday: Miss Louise LeCompte teaching songs to the junior high students.

Thursday: Mrs. Max Hayes, of New Brockton, teaching songs to fifth and sixth grade pupils.

Friday: Mrs. A. E. Bradley, of the Enterprise City School, teaching fifth and sixth grade songs.

These broadcasts will continue through the first week in March at the same hour. The public is invited to tune in and share them with the children.

The programs are sponsored by Miss Eunora Farris as a part of the instructional program of the County. The radio time is generously donated by WIRB as a part of their public service contribution.

Mrs. Devane Takes Over Tax Office

Mrs. Zeina Devane, who received her appointment last week to fill out the unexpired term of Tax Collector W. T. Whitman, resigned, took charge of the office Tuesday morning, the state auditor having completed his check-up.

Mrs. Devane's office for a number of years, so the affairs of this important office will be in experienced hands.

From now until fall is the dull season in the Tax Office, so Mrs. Devane says she will make trips to Enterprise only on Tuesdays of each week, when the office there will be open. When the busy season starts next November, she says she will visit Enterprise on two days each week.

Mrs. Devane will have charge of the Elba office during Mrs. Devane's absence.

F.H.A. Basketball Tournament To Be Played In Kinston

The annual F.H.A. basketball tournament will be held in Kinston this year. The first game will be played on February 14th for the first game being played between New Brockton and Kinston at 1:30 P. M. Elba and Enterprise will play at 2:30. The losers of these two games will play at 7:00 P. M. and the winners at 8:30 P. M. and the public is invited to come and see some good basketball games.

MUSIC LOVERS CLUB

The Elba Music Lovers Club met in the home of Mrs. E. G. Bragg, for the regular meeting February 17th with Miss Mabel Brunson and Mrs. J. W. English as joint hostesses.

The reception rooms were very tastefully decorated with early spring flowers.

Mrs. J. A. Carney, president, presided over a short business meeting. Plans were made to attend the District Music Club in Enterprise Saturday, February 26th.

Mrs. J. C. Fleming and Mrs. J. A. Carney were named to represent the Elba club at this meeting.

A most interesting program was given on the Opera, Samson and Delilah, Mrs. Frank Perdue, program chairman, presided.

The elegant pure walnut conference table and chairs added beauty and dignity to the room. The table held a central decoration of an elaborate bouquet of red roses in a crystal basket.

Long slender candles in crystal holders were placed on the table and added to the illumination.

Miss Nadine Spurlin and Mrs. Jean Hornsby ushered the guests through the second floor offices, where all desks were decorated with a single specimen red rose in a crystal vase. Baskets of gladioli and snapdragons in bright colors decorated the corridors.

EMERGENCY AID OPENING

Mrs. Mary Alice Mays, Mrs. Theda Hazen, and Miss Patsy Brunson served punch, sandwiches, cookies and toasted nuts.

On a cabinet near the table a fan shaped arrangement of plum, moss fern and red roses was centered in the picture of the late Wm. Brunson, the first president and one of the original organizers of Emergency Aid Insurance Company.

The ladies who assisted in entertaining were shoulder cartages and the men wore red carnations in their coat lapels. Miss Lillie Harper's corsage was a single orchid.

Hundreds of people enjoyed this affair and each was given a unique pencil as a souvenir.

Movie Tarzan Likes Playing Hero In Jungle Roles

Johnny Weissmuller doesn't envy Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, or Errol Flynn. If he had the chance to swap places with any man it wouldn't be President Truman nor Winston Churchill, much as he admires them. But if he could be anybody other than himself, "It would be" he said, "Tarzan."

Then Weissmuller stretched his powerful frame to let that one sink in.

"I'm not kidding," he continued. "First of all, I'm not an actor. I am an athlete. And Tarzan is the greatest athlete in all fiction. Of course playing Tarzan on the screen is the next best thing. Actually—only don't tell my bosses this—I'd play Tarzan for nothing."

Weissmuller has been Tarzan for seven years. He has never been seen as any other character and never will. He has no ambitions to be a drawing room hero, or to romance the beautiful ladies.

"I always wanted to be a good swimmer," Weissmuller said. "When my competitive days were over I came close to crying. I might have become a swimming coach, or kept on giving exhibitions. But most of all I like competition. Then along came Tarzan, the best break of my life. Playing Tarzan is competitive. He has given me something to live up to. I have to maintain perfect health and I am in as good physical condition today as when I was swimming on the United States Olympic Games team. I train as hard for each Tarzan film as I did when setting out to try for a world record."

Tarzan has brought Weissmuller happiness and compensation in other important directions. "I like youngsters and animals he said. "I get a great kick out of the letters I receive from boys both young and old. I feel that Tarzan is a good influence on kids, interesting them to build good sound bodies in clean sport. The animal stuff in Tarzan is more fun to me than anything else. Few people realize how much patience and training goes into the animal scenes in a picture. Animals are like human beings, they trust you and react according to the way they are treated. They respond rapidly to kindness, understanding and expert handling."

Away from his Tarzan role, Weissmuller is a genial quiet, active fellow with simple tastes. He exercises in the gym and swims every day of his life. His only luxury is a swimming pool, designed by him for his Brentwood home. He trained in it regularly until recently when he caught his 18-month-old son trying to dive into the pool like papa. So he had the pool emptied until a guard railing could be built and has aquatic training in his club pool.

When he isn't actually working a Tarzan film, Weissmuller is preparing himself for the next one, and he'd rather be Tarzan than Croesus.

Weissmuller is starred in the leading role in "Tarzan's New York Adventure" at the Elba Theatre Sunday and Monday.
